1.01. Static Block

The static block defines the general structure of a site, and lacks all dynamic elements. It uses a static array, or a special file that stores the site's data, which is then parsed by the site's templating system to produce the final output. Static sites are quick to deploy, easy to host, and can be very secure, since there are no dynamic components to attack.

Example HTML Markup

```
<!DOCTYPE html>
<html lang="en">

    <meta charset="utf-8">
    <meta name="viewport" content="width=device-width, initial-scale=1">
